11. Miscellaneous

In 2003, after completing my doctoral studies, I accepted a request to establish the School of Social Work at Sapir College. For five years, I had a joint appointment at Sapir College and Ben-Gurion University. In 2009, after my sabbatical in the United States, I saw the need to invest more in positioning the Social Work School at Sapir College at a time when the region has been subject to continuous missile attacks, and I dedicated myself to this challenge. On the one hand, there is no doubt that it was an enriching educational experience for me. On the other hand, my position demanded many hours of work in the community and at the College, far beyond the time and effort that most scholars invest in teaching and research. In September 2013, I completed a decade as Chair of the Social Work School, and spent a sabbatical at Boston College until the end of the 2013/14 academic year. In October 2014, I returned to Sapir College as a faculty member of the School of Social Work and as the PI of the TachyWe EU project at the School. During 2016-2018 academic years, I have devoted time to advancing new professional knowledge about the global migration crisis as part of the EASSW project grant. At 2018, I was invited to spend a visiting funding period at the University of Trento, Department of Psychology and Cognitive Science (Rovereto, Italy) to hold a course on Trauma and Post-traumatic Stress Disorder Treatments. In addition, I was nominated by the Israeli coordinator at the Ministry of Science & Technology, to represent Israel as a member committee in COST (European Cooperation in Science & Technology) CA18115 title: Transnational Collaboration on Bullying, Migration and Integration at School Level. At 2019, I was nominated as a visiting researcher at the Department of Neurobiology, Weizmann Institute, Israel, to initiate a new study focusing on the epigenetic signature among families living under conditions of CTS. Simultaneously with variety roles at Sapir College, unexpectedly, at mid-2021, I was called to be the Interim Dean of the school of social work at Sapir college and also nominated by the Israeli Deans and Heads of school of social work council to be the Israeli regional representative in the IASSW. At 2022, I was nominated as the Director of Sapir Research Authority and was elected to be a member in the Israeli Colleges Research forum. In September 2023, I was invited to spend a sabbatical at the Department of Social, Political, and Cognitive Sciences (DISPOC) at the University of Siena, Italy. However, due to the outbreak of war, I returned to Israel. Together with the President of the Weizmann Institute, I co-initiated and serving as the academic head of a new national prevention and intervention program called Anchors for Resilience. This program supports Israeli children and youth exposed to trauma and is currently being implemented in Be'er Sheva and Ofakim and in 2025 expanding our activities to the north (Tzfat; Aco and Upper Galilee). Additionally, since October 2024, I have been honored with an emeritus nomination at Sapir College."

Additionally, over the years, I have continued to dedicate myself to advancing the profession and advocating for public needs, including the communities surrounding Sapir College. In 2014, I was honored with the prestigious Katan Prize for my contributions to the welfare of individuals and communities as both a social worker and academic lecturer. In 2016, I received a distinguished award from the Israeli Parliament in recognition of my pioneering efforts to integrate academic scholarship with community work for underserved populations. Recently, in 2025, I received a commendation award from the Espanet Israel for promoting social policy.
